

New pages and features:
i-pad™ and i-phone™ friendly;
store now includes international shipping
and new sections: Secondary Market and New This Week.

For nearly a year, we have been finetuning and refashioning our website, www.browngrotta.com. We've made several geeky improvements, like switching from html to php (to interact with our database), replacing all the menus with HTML 5 (so you can navigate our site from your iPhone™ and iPad™) and creating internal menus for each Artist page to make navigation simpler. In the last few weeks we have added and updated content on literally dozens of pages. Among the more obvious changes: streamlined shopping that includes shipping information for international visitors, a Next Artist navigational button to forward to the next artist alphabetically (a feature added by request of several customers) new Artist Profile Interview and Video links and more of the The Artful Dog! (just click on her image on our home page). We've added two new sections- Secondary Market which features work by 20 artists and New This Week, where we'll showcase just-arrived and art news. Take a look and let us know what you think at art@browngrotta.com. The first 25 people to write us (include your mailing address) will receive a browngrotta arts catalog: #13 SHEILA HICKS Joined by Seven Friends from Japan; #25 25 FOR THE 25th: Glancing Back, Gazing Ahead; #29 FROM ACROSS THE POND: Contemporary textile artists and basketmakers from the UK; #31 WIRED: Fiber-Optic Weavings and Wire Sculpture or #32 ON PAPER.
